Wander

From a land far and wide,
emerging through the smooth clouds,
Parakeet set his eyes on a new place.
He saw many things to explore down there...

So he wandered to some dazzling lines sitting on the ground.

“What is this?”
wondered Parakeet.

Parakeet felt a cool swirling in his feathers
whilst he wandered through dancing leaves.

“What is this?” he wondered.

Parakeet wandered around a trail of shiny shapes that grew bigger and bigger
with each fall from the sky,

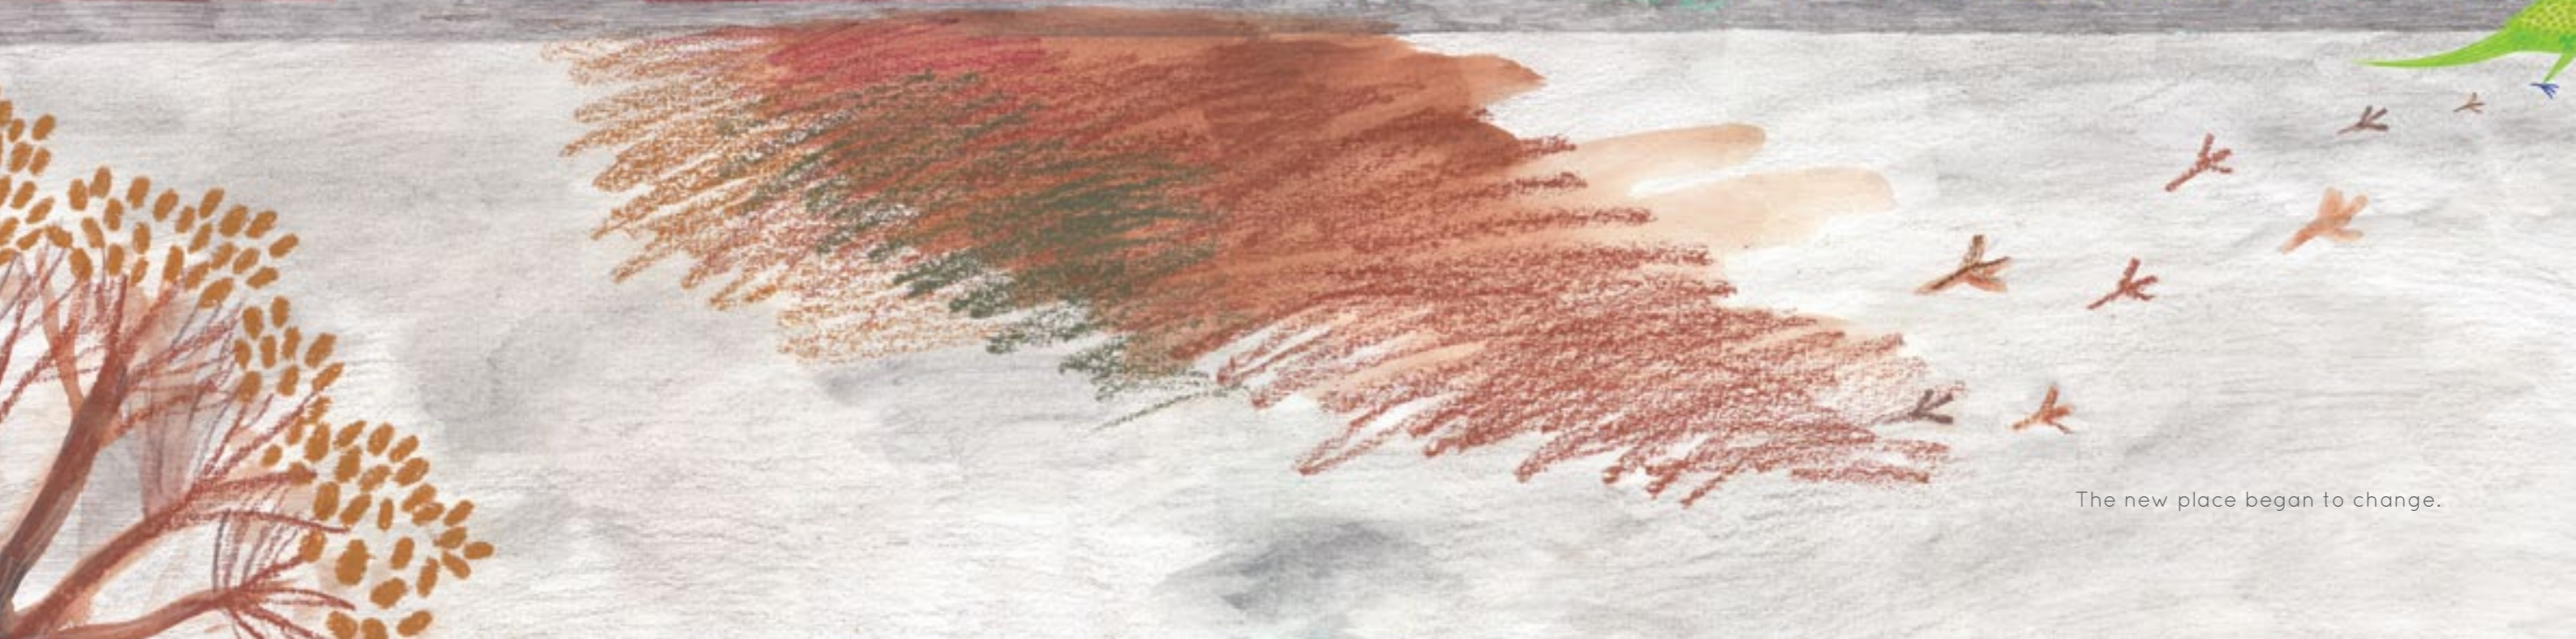

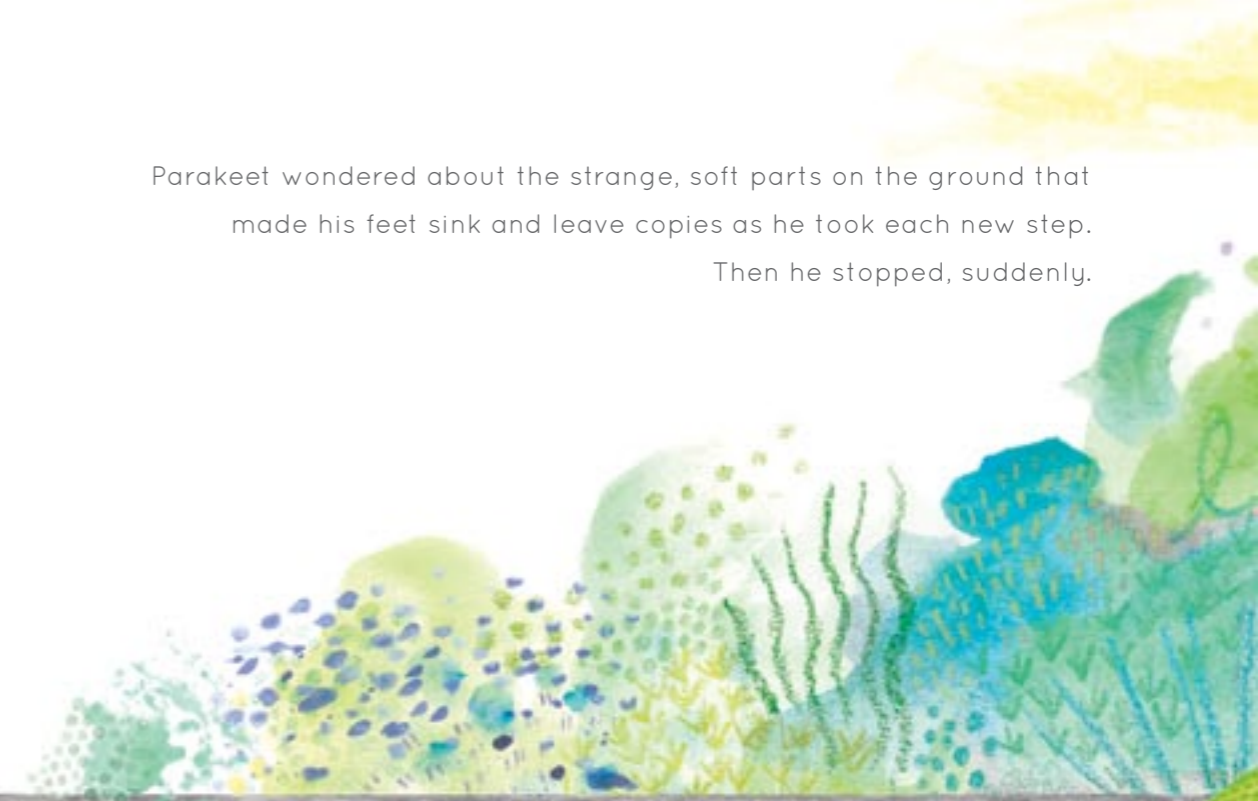

“What is this?” he wondered.

Parakeet wondered about the strange, soft parts on the ground that made his feet sink and leave copies as he took each new step. Then he stopped, suddenly.

The new place began to change.

Parakeet wondered...

...about the very tallest place.

As the colours glowed in the sky,
he wondered if he would find this place again.

But there wasn't any more time to wonder or wander...

It was time for Parakeet
to fly very quickly...

...Home.

wonder wildly...

The story of a curious
parakeet who embarks
on a journey to a captivating new place.
